

Bio

Dr. Nicole Lugosi-Schimpf is an Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Native Studies at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Canada. Her research interests include: international Indigeneity, structural racism, nation(hood), and Indigenous-newcomer relations.

Vision Statement

I believe that the work AASUA does to protect our workplace is important and necessary, especially during these uncertain times. In my role as Alternate Councillor, I would contribute to a strong AASUA that includes a diversity of representation from members across faculties and at all phases of their careers.